Greetings!

On behalf of the Host Committee, it gives me tremendous pleasure to welcome you to Orlando for the American Jail Association's 36th Annual Conference and Jail Expo at the Orlando World Center Marriott, April 9-12, 2017. This year's theme, Breakthrough to Excellence, is set to be focusing on professional development for Corrections professionals, innovative options, as well as latest and emerging technologies and products. In addition, AJA has organized an impressive lineup of speakers, programs, panels and more.

Jails are complex operations encompassing far more than just supervision and surveillance. Therefore, throughout the conference, AJA will share and discuss emerging issues in the corrections profession, which will include rich programming and numerous networking opportunities.

While here in Orlando, we hope you will enjoy much of what "The City Beautiful" has to offer. As one of the planet's premier tourist destinations, Orlando brings you theme parks, fine dining, arts, culture, entertainment and world-class shopping. I hope you make time to take in some of our attractions.

We are certain that this conference will give you a fresh perspective on corrections and provide a variety of strategies that you can take back to your respective agencies. Creating model jails starts here!

Sincerely,
