Objective Jail Classification and Beyond

February 18-20, 2019 Los Angeles, California

Co-Hosted By: Los Angeles County Sheriff's Department

Description: This seminar provides participants with best business practices that are supported through research, evidence and case law in implementing an objective jail classification process. The seminar will begin with a basic overview of the fundamentals of OJC and will advance into housing plans for special populations, needs assessments, reclassification of offenders, disciplinary infractions, keep separates, gangs, protective custody, programming, re-entry and sustainability of an implemented Objective Jail Classification process. The seminar will guide participants in the development of policies, procedures and data collection relevant to classification, reclassification and housing plans. The seminar will identify stakeholders that can provide funding, leadership, training and programs to support a progressive approach to mitigating risk. Attendees will be provided a case study to classify, house, re-classify, and provide programs and re-entry services during this 2.5 day seminar.

At the end of this course, participants will:

- Understand the correlation between identifying risk and need with reducing liability
- Identify valid criteria to assess risk
- Understand the components of an Inmate Behavior Management process
- Correlate the need of data collecting relevant to an inmate housing plan
- Develop an action plan through an agency self-evaluation
